

Boone United Methodist Women Scholarship Report 2025

The Boone United Methodist Women's Scholarship is funded by the Because We Care... initiative through your generous giving. The mission is to offer scholarships to deserving applicants to assist with their financial needs at post high school education levels. There are NO restrictions based on age, race, religion, or gender with priority given to undergraduate studies or non-traditional/adult students.

The recipients are chosen on the strength of the application as the names are not revealed until the awards are determined. We are pleased to announce the scholarship recipients for this year:

Samuel Broman-Fulks is a member of Boone UMC who works with the online streaming services on Sunday morning and helping with viewership statistics. Sam is a very ambitious young man who works as a snowboard instructor in the winter and a lawncare specialist in the summer. Samuel is described as having an impressive drive for academic and personal growth. He will attend Appalachian State in the fall to study Business and Risk Management.

Madison Caparolie stands out as a Company Commander with Watauga High School MCJROTC. She shares her vocal and musical talents with Trinity Baptist Worship Team. The word that stood out in her application was "significance" and we are confident that she will be just that. Madison will be attending Appalachian State in the fall to study Music Industry, Marketing, Promotion, Production and Recording.

Cady Donadio is a member of Boone UMC who currently worships with the Wesley Foundation and serves with Cru Campus Ministry. Cady is described as a women of integrity, compassion, and determination. She will graduate from Appalachian State University in May of 2026 with a BS in Hospital Administration.

Makayla Harrison is a member of Westside Baptist Church where she sings in the choir and helped with their mission projects after Hurricane Helene. She plans to attend Caldwell Community College and Technical Institute to study Physical Therapy. She is described as well-grounded, considerate of others, hard-working and devoted to her goals.

Jane Neely is a long time member of Boone UMC youth group even though she is from Ashe County. She is described by her peers as young woman who has taken ownership of her faith and her future. Jane will attend Appalachian State University with a goal to become a math teacher and to stay involved with BUMC as a youth leader.

Madelyn Trexler is a confident young lady who will pursue a career in Pharmacy. In fact, you may see her at Boone Drug where she currently works as a pharmacy tech. She is a member of First Presbyterian Church where she worships and volunteers. She is described as insightful, with a calm disposition, yet driven and motivated. She will be attending UNC at Chapel Hill to study Pharmacology.

The committee offers praise and thanks to the missions committee of BUMC for their generous support of this worthy scholarship.

The Scholarship Fund can be enhanced by contributions, memorials, and honoraria. For more information, please contact Denise Stanley, UMW Scholarship Chairperson,
